

COOPER IS NOW SECOND CHOICE

Word To This Effect Is Whispered About Capitol This Morning--Other Rumors.

SOCIALIST DISCUSSES OWNERSHIP

Believes Uncle Sam Should Take Up Regulation Of Railroad Abuses And Remedy Them--Barbers Law Is Saved.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., March 21.—The government ownership of the railroads was the subject of an impassioned plea in the assembly this morning by Carl D. Thompson of Milwaukee, a social democrat. He declared the efforts by the government for the regulation of rates was merely a temporary relief of the transportation evils, that transportation was a public service and should not be subject to private monopoly.

His resolution to memorialize congress to this end was re-referred to a committee. Assemblyman Estabrook of Milwaukee, formerly a republican attorney general, expressed his belief in government ownership as coming not far in the future.

The senate had a spirited debate of the March bill to repeal the state barber examination and inspection law. He said the barbers of the state were against the law, that the board was ineffective, that the board of health ought to look after the sanitation of barber shops, and that only purpose of the law was to provide paying jobs for a few men.

Law Defended. The law was defended by Senators Huddell, Roehr and Noble, who argued that the barbers were pleased with the working of the law, that better barbers and more sanitary conditions had come, that the pay of members of the board was small and that more power should be given to make the board more effective. The repeal of the bill was killed by a vote of 24 to 6.

To Have Vacation. The senate concurred in an assembly resolution to adjourn March 28 to April 8, for an Easter and election vacation.

Out for Cooper. A rumor came out more strongly today that a displeasure had arisen between La Follette and Lenroot and that La Follette was for Congressman Cooper if Stephenson could not be elected senator.

BURTON MAY LEAVE PRISON TOMORROW

Ex-Senator Can Escape Four Weeks of Sentence by Paying Fine of $2,500.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] St. Louis, Mo., March 21.—If ex-Senator Joseph R. Burton of Kansas chooses to pay his fine of $2,500 rather than wipe it out by serving four weeks more of imprisonment he will be released from the jail at Ironton tomorrow. Should he decide to serve out the fine he will remain in jail until April 22. Burton was convicted in November, 1905, on a charge of practicing before the postoffice department as an attorney while he was a member of congress. It is believed that upon his release he will return at once to his home in Abilene. He will be deprived from holding federal office until such time as his civil rights may be restored to him through action by the President.

SPRING ARRIVES TODAY. Winter—Has that young lady arrived? Well, I'll make it very disagreeable for her for awhile.

JOHN D. THE THIRD IS YEAR OLD TODAY

Can Easily Be Worth Five Billion Fifty Years From Now—Could Wipe Out National Debt.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, March 21.—Totally unconscious of the fact that he may someday be the richest man in the world, so far as money goes, a little blue-eyed chubby baby living in West Fifty-fourth street had his first birthday anniversary today. The "little fellow" is the son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and grandson of the Standard Oil magnate, whose millions he will eventually inherit. The Rockefeller fortune to which the baby will succeed is estimated at $1,000,000,000. At simple interest of 3 per cent in fifty years the fortune will have grown to $2,500,000,000. Should the baby inherit the money-making traits of his grandfather, and merely go on compounding the fortune that will be his in fifty years, when he is much younger than his grandfather is now, it will amount to nearly $5,000,000,000. This is twice the amount of the national debt of the United States, so that if the one-year-old of today desires at the age of 50, he may be in a position to wipe out his country's national debt and still have a couple of billion dollars to keep the wolf from the door.

AGED PIONEER DIES AT BELOIT TODAY

Has Been a Resident of the County Since 1839—Beloit Treasurer Reports.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit, March 21.—Mrs. T. Saberson, who has been a resident of Beloit or its immediate vicinity since 1839, died this morning aged 85. Mrs. Saberson was the oldest resident of Beloit. She leaves six children.

City Treasurer J. G. Wickham returned his books to County Clerk Lee this afternoon with a better record for collections than any previous clerk has ever made. With the exception of $118 all the personal tax was collected.

"Ready for work," is the announcement of O. S. Baylis, of Chicago, secretary of the Beloit Traction Company. Mr. Baylis says that the sleeping cars of the company he represents are already in Rockford and ready to be shipped to Beloit any time. Two gangs of men will be employed and he hopes that the road will be in operation by the first of July. One gang will work on the paved streets and the other on the unpaved and the work will be rushed.

RAILWAY OFFICERS GATHER IN CHICAGO

Maintenance of Way Men and Engineers From All Over United States are Assembled.

Chicago, Ill., March 21.—Railroad presidents, managers, superintendents, and engineers from every important transportation line in the country were present today at the eighth annual meeting of the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way association. The meeting, which has been in session several days, closes tonight with a banquet. The purpose of the organization is the advancement of knowledge pertaining to the scientific and economical location, construction, operation and maintenance of steam roads.

PAUL RUDOLPH MAY LOCATE IN NEVADA

Will Depart on a Business Trip For That State Next Monday—Plans Not Settled.

Alderman Paul F. Rudolph will depart on Monday next for the state of Nevada where he has mining interests. He will inspect these and possibly make further investments. It is altogether probable that his visit will result in a determination to ultimately locate in that state. On his return, his sons, who are associated with him in the grocery business at the corner of Western and Center avenues, will visit Nevada. Mr. Rudolph was out of the city today and it could not be learned whether or not he intended to resign as alderman. A deal for the sale of his grocery stock is now pending.

In Justice Court: In Judge Reed's court today the action of William McLeod against Frank Fisher to recover borrowed money was adjourned one week.

Civil Action on Trial: The civil action of A. P. Gould vs. William R. Cunningham, a landlord and tenant case, is being tried in Municipal court this afternoon.

PORTUGUESE CROWN PRINCE IS TWENTY

Birthday Celebrated Throughout Kingdom—Coming Ruler is Possessed of Much Sound Sense.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Lisbon, March 21.—The twentieth birthday of the Portuguese crown prince, Luiz, Philip, Duke of Braganza, was celebrated throughout the kingdom today with public fetes and merry-making. Flags and decorations were displayed everywhere and the day was observed as a holiday in all cities and towns. Prince Luiz Philip, whose rumour says will soon wed Princess Augusta Victoria, the eldest daughter of Prince William of Hohenzollern, is a manly young fellow, well educated, and apparently possessed of more sound sense than many of the other royal offsprings of Europe. With the general public, however, he is not so popular as his younger brother, Don Manuel, Duke of Beja, who is in his eighteenth year, and who is called by the people of Portugal "Our Own Sailor Prince." It is said to be the dearest wish of the young Prince that he may in time be allowed to go to the United States in command of a Portuguese man-of-war. This wish may be gratified this summer when Portugal will send a warship to the exposition at Jamestown.

ANNUAL TABERNACLE BIBLE CONFERENCE

Atlanta, Ga., March 21.—The annual Tabernacle Bible Conference, after weeks of preparations, opens in Atlanta tonight with the promise of being the most notable gathering of the kind ever seen in this section. The conference will continue for ten days. Gypsy Smith, the famous English evangelist, delivers the opening address tonight, and other persons of note who will take part in the conference are Dr. James N. Gray of Chicago, Melvin E. Trotter of Grand Rapids, Dr. C. L. Goodell of New York, Miss Eleanor S. Miller of Australia, and W. R. Moody of Northfield, Mass.

Texas Sunday Schools. More than 500 Sunday school workers from all parts of Texas are in Dallas to attend the thirty-second annual convention of the Texas Sunday School association. Several hundred more visitors are expected before tomorrow morning, making the gathering the largest of its kind ever held in the state. E. O. Excell of Chicago is here to lead the singing, which is to be a prominent feature of the meetings. Marion Lawrence, the international secretary; William Rogers of Oklahoma; Charles D. Meigs, general secretary of Texas; Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Hamlin of Tennessee and a number of other prominent workers and leaders are to be heard during the four days of the convention which will be in session. The opening service held in the First Methodist church this afternoon was for boys and girls. Tonight a rousing welcome demonstration takes place. The reports prepared by the several officers indicate a healthy growth of the organization during the last year.

BARNUM AND BAILEY OPEN IN NEW YORK

After Month of Exhibiting in Manhattan and Brooklyn Show Will Go on Road.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, March 21.—Spring is really here, for the circus has come to town. Following its custom of many years the Barnum & Bailey show opens its season in Madison Square Garden tonight and will remain a month in Manhattan and Brooklyn before taking to the road. From all indications a worthy successor has been found to take the place of "Tody" Hamilton, who has given up his duties as press agent for the big show after many years of service. The new agent is "on the job" with the announcement that it will require eighty-six cars to transport the show this year and that twelve tents will be utilized for exhibition purposes, to say nothing of the 1,200 employees, the six hundred horses and the hundred cages of wild beasts. Three thrilling acts in the nature of the "dip to death" performance are advertised.

MANY LAWS UNFAVORABLE TO RAILROADS PASSED

Middle Western States Have Carried On Crusade, And Magnates Now Seek National Regulation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Chicago, Ill., March 21.—E. H. Harriman, President Stickney of the Chicago Great Western and other prominent railroad executives are quoted as saying that they would prefer that their roads be brought under the control of congress rather than to be subjected to the legislation of the several states. It needs but a glance at the ever anti-railroad measures passed in the various states during the last six months or so to show that there is good reason for this preference on the part of the railroad officials. Congress, in response to the popular agitation, commenced the crusade for legislative regulation of railroads two years ago, but it is doubtful if even the most far-seeing statesman dreamed then of the lengths to which the crusade would be pushed by the states.

The fever for anti-railroad legislation by the states seems to have been sporadic in character. New England has been comparatively free from it, although no section of the country has better reason to complain of the domination of railroad combines. New York has been busy regulating the insurance companies and other big corporations and as yet has not had time to give a great deal of attention to the railroads. New Jersey and Delaware have not bothered the roads to any extent, but Pennsylvania started an investigation that stirred things up and Ohio followed suit by striking the first successful blow for the 2-cent fare.

But it is in this section of the country, in the Mississippi valley and the prairie states, that the anti-railroad fever has manifested itself in its most virulent form. A wave of anti-railroad legislation has swept like prairie fire from North Dakota to Texas. The most popular forms of legislation were two-cent-a-mile fare bills and bills authorizing state commissions to regulate rates and railroad affairs generally. A number of states passed laws at the sessions now drawing to a close, or just ended, and in many states agitation began which promises lively times at the next sessions.

Nebraska passed a two-cent-a-mile bill and then gave its attention to a terminal taxation measure, a bill reducing Pullman rates one-third, and other drastic anti-railroad legislation. Kansas passed a two-cent-a-mile bill, providing for 500, 1,000 and 2,000 mile-ages books, the 2,000 mile books to be interchangeable. Indiana also enacted a two-cent-a-mile act. North Dakota and South Dakota passed a number of anti-railroad bills, including two-cent mileage books and two and one-half-cent flat fare.

In the Southern states, there has been a great deal of recent legislation adverse to the railroads. The Alabama legislature used a particularly sharp stick, fixing rates on more than a hundred articles of freight, making sweeping reductions from existing rates, providing for reciprocal demurrage, and reducing passenger fares to two and one-half cents a mile. The activities of the Alabama legislature in this direction were heartily supported and more or less directed by Governor B. B. Comer, who was elected to office on an anti-railroad platform.

The anti-railroad fever left the Rocky Mountain states almost immune, but showed itself in nearly all the states on the Pacific slope. Wyoming, Colorado, and Utah declined to enter the anti-railroad crusade. Colorado passed a few harmless measures, and Montana contented herself with providing for a railroad commission. California was moderate in its demands on the railroads, but Oregon passed a comprehensive law empowering the state commission to regulate rates, providing for reciprocal demurrage, and giving general restrictive control of the railroads. Washington has been hot on the trail of the railroads for a long time and Nevada has a railroad commission with broad powers of regulation.

WILL APPOINT THE COMMISSION TODAY

Judge Fitzgerald May End Thaw Trial At Once—Is Thaw Insane Now?

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, March 21.—That Justice Fitzgerald will this afternoon appoint a commission in lunacy to inquire into the present mental condition of Harry K. Thaw, seems a foregone conclusion. That this commission will find Thaw now insane is the opinion of those who have closely followed the trial.

Seven of the alienists employed by District Attorney Jerome today signed the affidavits for presentation to Judge Fitzgerald in the argument this afternoon for the appointment of a commission in lunacy to examine Thaw. The six alienists in their affidavits declared: Thaw was suffering from a form of paranoia and that he should not be discharged from custody; that if he should be discharged he would be dangerous to public peace and safety, and that it is reasonably certain he will not recover. The seventh, Dr. Hirsch, agrees with his colleagues, except he declared that Thaw cannot possibly recover. The document includes also an affidavit by Irving S. Cobb, a reporter, describing a note given to him a few weeks ago by Thaw in which Thaw commented upon his wife's testimony and upon the conduct of the prosecution. The affidavits are signed by Doctors Flint, Mabon, MacDonald, Pritchard, Ferrels, Hirsch, and Diefendorf. The alienists declared on their affidavits that Thaw knew the nature and quality of his act in shooting White, which together with the affidavits make thirty-two printed pages. Justice Fitzgerald took the bench at 2:06 p. m. today to hear the affidavits regarding the lunacy commission. Harry Thaw was not present.

Jerome explained at length that it had been impossible to get before the court his belief, formed from the opinions, expressed by Dr. Hamilton and other alienists, that Thaw was a paranoiac, until Hamilton was called. Thaw's counsel objected to further examination of Dr. Hamilton by Jerome and Justice Fitzgerald declined to allow the examination. The hearing adjourned until tomorrow. Both sides were allowed until Saturday afternoon to present additional affidavits.

Applications for licenses have also been filed by Owen J. Jones of Evansville and Hallie A. James of the town of Union; Francois Trevorrah of Jeddertown and Jennie Silverthorn of Portville.

Migration to Baraboo: Twelve "sleepers" obtained lodging at the city lock-up last evening, all of them asserting that they were on the way to join the Ringling Bros' circus at Baraboo.

In a Great Metropolis. There are 3,556 blind Londoners, while 2,057 are deaf and dumb. There are 10,058 soldiers in London. Baraboo has 46,646 paupers in the poor houses, 10,500 patients in the hospitals, 3,300 lunatics in asylums and nearly 5,000 criminals in the prisons.

Literature in Chunks. If a man's library contains 18 volumes in a uniform binding it means that an agent landed him and that he has 18 books he doesn't read.—Athens Globe.

Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Janesville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Janesville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mrs. B. F. Jones, of 157 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says:

"I was not free from attacks of backache for a single day during several years past, and used so many remedies without getting any relief that I came to the conclusion that nothing would help me and stopped trying. I went about all bent over, could not straighten up at all and had a dull pain across the loins and a feeling of weakness that made it hard for me even to rise from a chair.
At night I would awaken with the feeling that a great weight was breaking my back, and anyone who has suffered from kidney trouble will know what torture I endured. Finally I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and wondered if there was really any use of trying another remedy, but seeing them recommended by people in Janesville I got a box at the People's Drug Store and began using them. Gradually I regained strength and the pains and aches finally disappeared. Since I completed the treatment I have not had an attack of backache nor any symptom of kidney trouble, and I believe Doan's Kidney Pills worthy of all the praise that I can give them."

SWAMP LANDS OF COUNTRY DRAINED

WHAT WAS ACCOMPLISHED IN THE KANKAKEE DISTRICT.

SOME INTERESTING DATA

Professor W. D. Pence Writes of Conditions That Exist and How They Were Overcome.

The growing importance of covert-ed action in draining the unclaimed marsh lands of Wisconsin was pointed out by Professor W. D. Pence of the University of Wisconsin College of Engineering in a lecture on "The Drainage of the Kankakee Marsh Region."
Swamp grass lands in that region, he showed, increased in value from $15 and $20 an acre to $100 or more an acre as a result of successful drainage. Because of the actual increase in crop yield and the splendid moral played in this famous marsh now bids fair to become one of the garden spots of the middle west.
Similar results, the speaker pointed out, could be obtained in Wisconsin, where it is estimated that there are about 3,000,000 acres of swampy land.

How Results Were Accomplished.

Professor Pence, who until recently has served as a member of the commission appointed by Secretary Wilson of the United States Department of Agriculture to study the drainage movement in the upper Kankakee valley and to report upon the plans for the completion of the drainage system in the lower valley, pointed out in detail how the results have been attained. After a brief statement as to the geological and physiographical conditions of the region and the various unsuccessful attempts made during the past half century to drain this immense waste area, he described the remarkable success attained during the past five or six years through intelligent, concerted action among the land owners in the upper half of this marsh region. He also indicated the steps yet to be taken for the completion of the dredging operation to the western limits of the marsh.

Big Undertaking.

The area of the Kankakee marsh is its original or native state was about 625,000 acres, or nearly 1,900 square miles. This estimate, made about 1870 when the first serious movement was undertaken for the reclamation of the marsh for agricultural purposes, included considerable land along the outskirts, which, while not subject to overflow, was nevertheless given over to the rank growth of marsh hay.
As is always the case in such undertakings on a large scale requiring concerted action for the success, many opponents to the movement arose with a claim, among others, that the assessment would amount practically to the confiscation of the land. The assessment was contested in the courts and, after a costly and bitter struggle, this initial enterprise failed, with the net result of crystallizing opposition which has blocked the way to a solution of this problem until within the past few years.

Large Increase in Land Values.

While the work thus far has been prosecuted by sections under five independent organizations, there is now on foot a movement and surveys have already been made looking to the completion of the river dredging operation under a single organization, an immense stimulation has been given to this movement in the lower valley by the amazing results produced by the work already accomplished through the dredging of the main channel and the construction of laterals in the upper half of the old marsh plain. Professor Pence illustrated this transformation by slides and cited figures to show the change from the swampy grass land valued at $15 to $25 per acre to fine farm lands now rated at $100 or more an acre because of the actual crop yield and the excellent market facilities both east and west.
In conclusion the speaker pointed out the growing importance of concerted action in undertaking similar drainage projects in states like Wisconsin where there remain so large an area of unclaimed marsh land.

SAW MAN FALL FROM CHICAGO SKYSCRAPER

J. E. Underwood Was an Eye-Witness of the Terrible Occurrence Which Cost Workman His Life.

J. E. Underwood of the Leonard-Underwood Co. of this city has returned from a trip to Chicago, where he witnessed on Tuesday the terrible fall from the roof of the seven-story Railway Exchange building at the corner of Jackson boulevard and Michigan avenue of the Italian workman, Tony Caruso. The man was repairing a paint-house on the edge of the roof and lost his balance. He tried to seize a hold on the projecting cornice, but was unsuccessful and snot downward, describing two complete somersaults in the air and striking the pavement with terrific impact. The body was mangled almost beyond recognition and death was instantaneous. The faces of workmen whose attention had been attracted by the man's agonized cry as he lost his hold, were blanched with horror and several women fainted.

SHOW THE CAUSES OF MANY DISASTERS

Commerce Commission Makes Report
for the Past Five Years' Accidents.

Summarizing the quarterly bulletin which has been issued by the Interstate Commerce Commissions during the last five-year period, throws a flash of light on the causes of railroad collisions. Examination has been made of nineteen bulletins which contain and classify 448 accidents of this kind. Of these the Commission attributes 317 to "neglect of trainmen and engineers."

Accidents occurring as a result of negligence "when working excessive hours was coincident" number only 24.
The number of people killed in this class of accidents was 20, while the accidents in the first class formed 70 per cent. of the total, resulted in 80 per cent. of the fatalities (904), and were responsible for 70 per cent. of the money loss of $4,772,215.

To show the efficiency of signal systems, the Commission's Bulletin classifies collisions, (1) in automatic signal systems, (2) in places not so equipped
(3) those in which the automatic signal would have given warning; and
(4) those in which the Commission holds, block systems would have afforded no additional protection.

In the first classification there are 18 accidents, only one of which was due to failure of the system, as against 17 for which failure to obey or set signals was directly responsible. Only two collisions out of the 31 in class 2 were caused by failure of signals. The remaining 29 were due to negligence of employees.

More than 331 collisions are classed as preventable by the automatic block signal system, but it is pointed out that there is no reason to believe that all of these would have been avoided
by signals since in the first two classes 94 per cent. of the accidents were due to errors of signal men and discor-dances of signals by trainmen and engineers.

The conclusion drawn by railroad authorities from this showing is that the true explanation of eight out of ten accidents is unmistakably the failure of employees to obey orders, made for the protection of themselves and the public.

fice Last Evening—George M.
McKey Made President.

The Janesville Power-Boat Company was organized at an enthusiastic meeting of local launch-owners held at the office of E. W. Lowell last evening. George M. McKey was elected president; J. C. Harlow, vice president; and Harry Nowlan, secretary and treasurer. The session was well attended and it is probable that every boat-owner will eventually become allied with it. Plans for the improving of navigation on Rock river were discussed last evening and steps will be taken towards the realization of many of them this season.

Christian Fortitude.

As the vacant air we breathe is full of germs of this world's life, so what seems the empty things of common life are full of potencies for life eternal. Our passing spites and worries may be sordid enough; but the thankfulness and patience which overcome them belong to a world
which passeth not away.—Henry M.

THE "Universal"

The "Universal" Bread Maker Simply an easier, quicker and cleaner way of making bread. Easier—does away with the tiresome work of hand kneading. Quicker—by turning the handle three minutes the kneading rod does the work better and more thoroughly than you could possibly do it by hand in 30 minutes. Cleaner—because your hands do not touch the dough. No dirt, no germs. Bread that's always the same—light, wholesome and delicious. Price, $2.00.

The "Universal" Coffee Percolator Brings to the table every day in the year a healthful and invigorating beverage. It starts with cold water, and as it percolates through the coffee, gradually increasing in temperature, only the wholesome properties of the coffee bean are extracted. No boiling water to release the bitterness—the unwholesome properties. By the time the boiling point is reached the coffee is ready to serve—appetizing, rich and wholesome. Made of aluminum and high grade enamel ware. $2.00 up, different styles and sizes.

The "Universal" Food Chopper Operates the easiest because the throat of the hopper is so large that whatever is being chopped readily finds its way to the seven cutting teeth inside the barrel. Chops all kinds of meat, raw or cooked; all kinds of food, fruit, fish and vegetables, fine or coarse, into clean cut, uniform pieces. No holes or openings to become clogged, no strength wasted in squeezing or mashing.

Before The Footlights.

Musical Vaudeville
McIntyre and Heath, in Klaw & Erlanger's production of George V. Hobart's musical vaudeville, "The Ham Tree," will be the attraction in this city at the Myers theatre Friday, March 22. This is one of the funniest and most interesting shows now on the stage. It was first presented at the New York theatre in New York, where it made two long runs, and since then has been seen in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago and other large places. In each of these cities the New York verdict was repeated. McIntyre and Heath are undoubtedly the greatest impersonators edited by interested parties, so of negro character. In this production, they are surrounded by a great company of over 100 people, they appearing to better advantage than at any time during their career. Their old skit, "The Georgia Minstrels," has been incorporated into the new play in such a clever way that it becomes a part of the story, and in the second act they keep an audience convulsed by their funny description of their straits as "stranded" minstrels. Throughout the piece twelve musical numbers are presented by the principals and chorus. "The Ham Tree" is most elaborately mounted with magnificent scenery and brilliant costumes.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Showers tonight and Friday, warmer tonight.

FARM DISTILLATION

One of the most important pieces of legislation by congress at the last session was the adoption of Senator Hansbrough's amendments to the free alcohol law. Many supporters of the original measure had expected that it would enable the farmer to manufacture small quantities of spirits for use in running a portion of his machinery. To some agriculturists that privilege would be more welcome than any increased demand for their corn by wholesale distillers. When, therefore, it was discovered that the proper provision had not been made the Senator from North Dakota took the lead in a movement to correct the oversight, and was entirely successful. The new law does not go into effect until next September, but it will then be permissible for anybody who complies with regulations which the commissioner of internal revenue is required to issue to distill on his own premises a quantity of alcohol not exceeding a hundred gallons (about two barrels) daily. It does not matter how little he produces, or how much of the time his still stands idle. The all important thing is not to exceed the prescribed limit in an interval of twenty-four hours.

Before availing himself of the opportunity, soon to be open to him the farmer will need to obtain a variety of information. For some of this he must look to the head of the Internal Revenue bureau. Mr. Yerkes alone can tell him how large a bond he must give to guarantee the government against fraud, what kind of storage tank will meet with the approval of the government, how often and under what circumstances the attendance of an inspector can be secured to release the product from the tank, and what sort of poison and how much must be added to the alcohol in order to make it available for use and exempt from tax. Certain other facts—the price of denaturing substances, for instance, and the difference between grain (or ethyl) alcohol and wood (or methyl) alcohol—any intelligent farmer can ascertain for himself. Even then, however, it will be injudicious to go ahead without suitable instruction in regard to methods and materials. Practically all kinds of vegetation, including such unpromising articles as sawdust and dry chips, can, by suitable treatment be made to yield ethyl alcohol, but in most cases the quantity would be too small to pay. Besides, what might be an economical source in one region might prove wastefully expensive elsewhere. Without helpful guidance in the choice of materials, therefore, needlessly disheartening mistakes may be made.

Foreseeing this possibility, Mr. Hansbrough has suggested to the secretary of agriculture that a circular be prepared for the enlightenment of such farmers as wish to attempt distillation. The plan is an excellent one. The senator from North Dakota is doubtless aware that documents relating to the subject have already been issued under Secretary Wilson's auspices, but he may think that they are so voluminous as to be confusing to the novice. Other men entertain that opinion, at any rate, and have wished for a more succinct presentation of the matter and for something more specific in the way of advice. It is thought probable that the internal revenue bureau will issue its new regulations about July 1, or two months before the law goes into effect. If Secretary Wilson saw his way clear to comply with Senator Hansbrough's request, at that time or even sooner, he would unquestionably help those interests for the promotion of which his department of the government was established.

STILL A QUESTION

It is still a question who will be the next United States senator from Wisconsin. Senator La Follette has left Madison for his western trip and while there is renewed activity in the different camps there is nothing definite yet as to how much strength the separate candidates have. The question of a caucus is still being discussed and upon this decision rests the ultimate victory for one candidate or another. When the vote was taken at the time of Quarles' election eight years ago the oldtime custom of the secret ballot was cast aside for the first time and an oral vote was taken. It is said that the oldtime system of voting by secret ballot is again being discussed and the idea meeting with favor.

Now that Janesville has settled the mayoralty question it can watch with interest the Busse-Dunne fight in Chicago and the gyrations of Madison to select its common council and Milwaukee to keep pace with its strenuous civic head.

Russia has progressed. Members of the Douma have already begun calling each other liars and traitors.

This is the first step and then comes the boodling period and afterwards real reform.

The street sweeper was at work last evening on the paved streets and as a result Mr. Sennett's men are this morning making everything ship-shape for the evil March winds.

Someone blundered in the Thaw trial and now Harry is to be tried as to his sanity. The outcome is a question and Lawyer Delmas is at sea as how he shall proceed.

Japan is planning to send its overflow population into Korea to take up farms and develop the country. California has as yet made no formal protest to the proposition.

Men who see a financial crisis in the air are men who have been disappointed in securing control of railroads by the manipulations of Wall Street financiers.

The placid Rock continues to flow down towards the great Father of Waters as calmly as though this was not spring and a spring freshet due at any minute.

The next council will have many problems to decide and attention should be called to the fact that they are all matters in which the public is interested.

It would appear as though Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco and his able follower, Reuf, were quite handy in the bargaining line when it came to franchises.

The old LaSalle street tunnel is a thing of the past and ships can now sail over the spot where its snake-like back hampered for years, with safety.

There is a possibility that the likening of Roosevelt to the austere Andrew Jackson may bring the south to its feet to demand a third term.

Chicago is making ready for its baseball teams' return. The Champs and the "Spuds" promise to make things lively again this summer.

Mr. Harriman has just purchased another railroad and is, on the market for more if he can find just what he wants.

The spring freshets this year have been just as large as ever despite the fact it has been an open winter.

Spring officially opened its petals this morning. Did anyone notice the great change?

Ohio is thinking strongly of adopting the idea that Taft is its favorite son after all.

Every day some new phase of this third boom breaks forth in an unexpected spot.

PRESS COMMENT.

Failures That Do Not Die
El Paso Herald: "Only one play in 50 succeeds," say the theatrical managers. But the other 49 are sent westward over the cactus circuit just the same.

It's an Awful Place
Menasha Record: Reformers have undertaken to raise $100,000 to purify La Crosse. We all know about that city, but never dreamed it was as bad as that.

Answers to Specifications
Chicago Examiner: A real molly-coddle has at last been located. He is a Connecticut young man, who, in order to qualify for matrimony, has agreed to take an examination in baking pies, washing dishes and hanging out clothes.

Good Reason to Rejoice
Chicago Tribune: In the fire that destroyed Helicon hall last week Jurgis Sinclair lost the manuscript of a novel based on the Thaw case. In almost every calamity there is some compensatory blessing.

Shakespeare a Pinhead?

Advocates Fair Warning to All
Chicago Record-Herald: Somebody who has been studying the matter gives out the opinion that bridge whist is a disease. Why not compel the people who have it to put upon their front doors placards bearing the legend, "Bridge Whist Played Here"?

Only Fair
Milwaukee Free Press: A Chicago paper raises the question, Should a bachelor kiss a baby? It would be a decent thing to let the baby have something to say about that.

The Governor's Preference
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The governor's refusal to be a candidate for the senate indicates that he would prefer to remain in his present office, and his attitude is one that has materially increased the high esteem in which he is held throughout Wisconsin.

Retaliation by an Advertiser
Madison Journal: The State Journal offers humble apology to its readers for its inability to keep them informed these days of the fine bargains going in gas stoves. Apparently a paper cannot present both sides of the gas question at the same time.

In His Seat Six Minutes
Exchange: That sturdy patriot William Randolph Hearst put in an appearance in Washington just before adjournment and occupied his seat in the house of representatives for six minutes; time taken with a stop watch. He usually has his salary sent to New York.

"exaggerated ego" ailment, and of "brain storms" as well. Miss Dunn asserts that he is suffering from a complication of the two, and this, it true, explains why Miss Dunn, in her supporting capacity, has had to assume so much of the suffering.

Prefers to Choose Own Way
Sheboygan Journal: After providing its employees with noon lunches, free parks, and a model factory building in which to work, the "Sunshine" hosiery company of Kenosha has a strike on its hands. The proprietors overlooked the fact that the American workman doesn't care much for paternalism, but prefers to pay for his own lunch and hoe his own garden, or "blow in" his money otherwise, if he pleases.

Good, But Not Glad
El Paso Herald: In a little New Jersey fisher village, an itinerant evangelist with a spite against bacco has succeeded in converting every man in it and causing him to sign an anti-nicotine pledge. To help along the good work, the local storekeeper has publicly intimated—in a bonfire—every plug and cigar in stock; neither will he order more. The town feels virtuous—but uncomfortable.

Should Spooner Come on Scene
Cassio in the Evening Wisconsin: By the way, I see in the public prints that Senator Spooner is expected to come to Wisconsin in a few days. Now, I don't believe—in fact, I have it upon very good authority—that Senator Spooner doesn't intend to mix up in this senatorial fight. But, say, wouldn't it be a bit interesting if he came to Madison and just sat around for a day or two, watching them wrangle over who was going to be chosen to fill his shoes. And might it not influence matters a bit, his just being here and taking it all in? They say that the very presence of great men manifests itself upon little men when they get excited. Spooner may be, as they say, a mighty poor politician, but if it should chance that he happened in when Robert M. was out Chautauquing for $300 per—wouldn't it be comic?

Both
Wall Street Journal: The Sun, on its editorial page, points at Theodor

Roosevelt as the cause of the collapse in stock market prices. The sun, on its financial page, points at E. H. Harriman as the cause.

In a sense both are right. Harriman represents independent, unstrained, financial concentration under government regulation for the prevention of monopoly and the establishment of orderly, fair competition.

Sun Slowly Getting Hotter.
An official of the naval observatory at Washington ventures the somewhat startling suggestion that the sun is still getting better. The process, however, is too slow to have any but a scientific interest for the present inhabitants of the earth.

Dr. John Gibson Paton, the missionary, told in his autobiography how depressed he was when he first arrived in the New Hebrides in 1858. The natives were in their war-paint and nakedness; a fight was going on, and five or six men had been killed. His native servant, who went out to procure water for tea, came back without it. The savages had cooked and eaten the dead bodies at the only available spring, had washed the blood into the water and had bathed in it. The missionary drank coconut water for a good while after that.

SIXTIETH BIRTHDAY OF JOSEPH L. BEAR

Members of the Grand Army and Relief Corps Assisted in its Celebration Last Night.

Yesterday was Joseph L. Bear's 60th birthday anniversary and about fifty members of W. H. Sargent Post No. 26, G. A. R., and W. H. Sargent Corps No. 21, W. R. C., gathered at his home on South Main street last evening to assist him in its celebration. Ice cream and cake were served and congratulatory remarks were made by Major Cobb, E. B. Heimstreet, Christopher Tochtermann, David Couger, and others. In behalf of the comrades a beautiful sterling silver knife and fork bearing the inscription, "For J. L. B. from the Post," was presented by Commander J. F. Carle, and the recipient responded with great feeling, expressing his high appreciation and gratitude. In behalf of some of the members of the Relief Corps, Mrs. E. O. Kimberley presented Mr. and Mrs. Bear with a handsome solid silver spoon, suitably engraved. J. G. Wray had decorated the following original verse for the occasion:

The Eighth Wisconsin regiment
Of brave men had their share,
But their greatest pride and glory
Was in their Eagle and their Bear.
Their Eagle has ceased spreading
Its pinions for a flight,
But we are glad this Bear is with us
To celebrate tonight.

SPRING CLEANING IS BEING ACCOMPLISHED

Street Sweeper Started Out on its First Trip Last Evening—Water Wagon Out Yesterday.

Street Commissioner James Senneff began his spring cleaning crusade last night when the big street sweeper appeared for the first time this spring and swept the paved streets on South Main, River and Milwaukee streets. This morning the new dumping wagon was in use and a force of men swept up all the refuse. Yesterday the water wagon made its appearance and the disagreeable dust noticeable for the past few days has disappeared. The gutters throughout the city are being cleaned as fast as possible and if the spring day continues Janesville will be all ready for budding trees earlier than usual.

MRS. M. L. FITCHETT'S HOME—BEING REMODELED AND CONSIDERABLY ENLARGED

Second Story, to be Finished in Stucco, is Being Added and Other Changes Made.

Mrs. M. L. Fitchett, widow of the late Jonathan Fitchett, is remodeling and making extensive additions to her home at 159 Milton avenue. She has let a masonry contract to J. T. The second story will be finished in stucco work and when completed the residence will be one of the most attractive in the city. Modern improvements will be installed and altogether fifteen hundred or two thousand dollars will be expended.

German Families Coming Here to Grow Sugar Beets.

The Rock County Sugar company has just arranged with 30 German families to come to Janesville and vicinity and grow sugar beets this season.

The families are all experienced beet growers, having worked in the beet fields for the past seven years. Each family has contracted to do the hand work on from 15 to 50 acres, according to its size, and they will be a valuable assistance to the farmers who intend to plant a large acreage to beets.

Parties wishing to place any of these families on their farms this season should write the matter at once to the Rock County Sugar company. First come, first served.

NEW RUBBER TIRE MACHINE.

Shrinks the Tire on Both Ways at Lloyd's.

A new machine has just been installed by E. Ray Lloyd at his shop, 107 E. Milwaukee street, for putting rubber tires on buggy wheels in a superior way. This new apparatus shrinks the tire on from both ways and is the only one of its kind in the city or in this vicinity. The tire gives much more wear when placed in this manner, a fact which horseowners will appreciate. Mr. Lloyd also has a new cushion tire with two wires and a third more rubber than the regular tire. It costs a trifle more but will outwear the old kind by double. He will be glad to demonstrate the new machine to those interested.

Longevity Aids.

A 91-year-old woman attributes her longevity to meat eating. The last two nonagenarians reporting, we believe, relied respectively on patent cough mixture and graham bread. Faddists get encouragement from items like these, but people who believe in doing as they like get more.

TEMPERANCE ORDERS CONDUCTED CONTEST

Large Crowd at Y. M. C. A. Building Last Evening—Medal Captured by Mrs. Meads.

Under the joint auspices of the local branches of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Independent Order of Good Templars a very interesting declamatory contest was held at the Y. M. C. A. building last evening. There were competitors from both organizations and all had partisans who comfortably filled the auditorium. The selections were all on temperance topics and the first place was awarded Mrs. Stella Waldo Meads, who offered "The Tale of the Serpent." She was given a silver medal and when five others have captured similar honors a contest for a gold medal will be held. When there are six holders of gold trophies in the city a diamond medal contest is to be held. Others who spoke last evening were, Miss Maria Gibbs, Mrs. Fred P. Grove, Miss Cora Wilhelmy, Miss Minnie Kapka and Mrs. George Jacobs. The judges were the Revs. J. W. Laughlin, J. H. Tippet, and W. P. Christy. Musical numbers were furnished as follows: Instrumental music and piano solo, Miss Alina Fisher; instrumental duet, Messrs. Williams and Albrecht; vocal solos, Miss Bertha Saxby and Fred P. Janeville Daily Gazette, Thursday, March 21.—Charter Amendments Passed.—We learn that the amendments to the city charter, authorizing the purchase of steam fire engines, the increase of school tax and appointing of a marshal have passed both branches of the legislature. The bridge provision was stricken out and the question remains as originally provided by the charter.

Burglaries.—The immunity which our people have enjoyed for the past few months from burglaries, visitations, came to an end last night and two dwelling houses were entered by these villains. The residence of Mrs. C. B. Colwell on Bluff street received a visitation, the entrance being effected by the turning of the front door key with a jimmy. Mr. C. was awakened by a slight noise like that occasioned by the ignition of a match. Upon starting up he discovered a man peering into his bedroom, evidently discovering the "day of the land." He sprang out of bed and gave chase to the intruder, who did not stand on the order of his going. The fellow failed to reap a rich harvest by being disturbed, as Mr. Colwell had in his pantaloons pocket about $700 in greenbacks, and there were other valuables lying about handy.

The other case was at the home of Mr. Parker on East Milwaukee street, where Mr. P. was awakened by hearing someone about the house. Mr. Parker at once got up, revolver in hand, but only in time to find that the burglar had left, taking with him a gold watch which was in the pocket of Mr. Albert Doolittle, who occupied a portion of the house, a pocket book containing some five dollars in money and the clothing belonging to Mr. Parker's little boy. These last named articles were found this morning thrown into the lot of Mrs. Peterson. Other efforts in the same line of rascality will undoubtedly be made and people should be on their guard.

HIS LAND FRAUDS WERE EXPENSIVE

CONVICT PUETER TESTIFIES AT THE HERMANN TRIAL.

HOW ENTRIES WERE FIXED

Witness Says Senator Mitchell Took $2,000, Arranged Matters with Hermann and Patents Were Issued.

Washington, March 21.—A. D. Pueter, who gave his residence as the Multnomah county jail, Oregon, where he has served six months of a two years' sentence for land frauds, was a witness for the government in the Hermann trial here Wednesday. He gave with startling directness the full details of the difficulties, and cost which had attended his efforts to obtain patents to 12 homesteads in the Cascade forest reserve, now known as the "eleven-seven" tracts in Oregon.

He said he first "rounded up" ten people and made an agreement to pay them $150 each to make entries to the claims and turn over the deeds to him. He then saw Dr. Loomis, the special agent of the land office, in that state, gave him $500 to make a favorable report on the claims and promised him a like amount when the patents should issue. He also endeavored to "fix things" with Ormsby, the state forger, by giving Ormsby's son $500.

Saw Mitchell and Hermann.

After the Loomis report reached Washington, Pueter learned that something was wrong, and as he had been here several times before and knew Mr. Hermann very well, he decided to come at once. Before leaving Oregon he got a letter of introduction to Senator Mitchell from Attorney Mayes of Portland. Pueter said he knew Mitchell, but asked Mayes to write a "strong letter" and indicate to the senator that Pueter would pay him well to fix things up for him. He presented the letter to the senator on his arrival and also called on Mr. Hermann. Mr. Hermann told him that his matters were being looked into, and indicated that things might be going along all right.

Saw Mitchell and Hermann.

Senator Mitchell visited Mr. Hermann in the case, and after several consultations it was decided that additional affidavits were necessary. It was decided to send for Mrs. Watson, who had made one of the entries, and who was then in Los Angeles.

Needed More Proof.

Mrs. Watson called on Hermann several times in the next three days. Pueter stated that during these visits he waited outside. It was about four days after the affidavits had been furnished that he called on Hermann, and said he was completely knocked out by being told that his claims also needed more proof. Hermann advised him to go back to Oregon and get his proof.

Pueter testified that he at once called on Mitchell, who also advised the same way after hearing the situation. Pueter said he told both Mitchell and Hermann that it was useless to do this, that the people who had made the entries were scattered, and it would be useless to try to get proof from them, besides, he said further, that if he did get them together they would hold him up for more than he had first paid them. He talked the matter over with Mitchell for two hours, as the result of which Mitchell went to see Hermann that day.

That night he called on Mitchell and had another conference with him. It was at this conference, he said, that he took out two $1,000 bills and laid them on the table in front of Mitchell, saying that this amount represented all that he (Pueter) could spend on the claims and get out whole if he got the patents. He testified that he told Mitchell to take the money and get the patents. He said that Mitchell took one of the bills and tossed it over to Pueter, saying that Pueter could not afford to spend so much. Finally, Pueter testified, Mitchell took both bills and kept them and said he would see what could be done.

Mitchell called on Hermann that day, and then advised Pueter to call on him. This Pueter says he did, and Hermann told him he thought things could be arranged so that the patents would issue. He said he had taken the matter up personally. The witness testified that Mitchell saw Hermann again the next day, and later that day Pueter met Hermann on the street. Hermann shook hands with him, he said, stated he had seen Mitchell and that his patents would be issued.

RUEF AND HALSEY INDICTED AT FRISCO

SEVENTY-FIVE BILLS, CHARGING BRIBERY, ARE FOUND.

THE "BOSS" IS HIT 65 TIMES

Supervisors Bribed for Overhead Trolley Permit, Prize Fight Trust, Telephone Companies, and the Gas Company.

San Francisco, March 21.—The long looked for indictments in the municipal graft cases were returned Wednesday night. Shortly after six o'clock the grand jury filed with Presiding Judge Coffey, of the superior court, 75 indictments charging bribery, which were found on evidence presented to the grand jury after six months' probing into the municipal affairs of this city by Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Honey and Secret Service Agent William J. Burns.

Sixty-five Against Ruef.

Of the indictments returned 65 are against Abraham Ruef, for years the political boss of San Francisco, charging him with bribing the board of supervisors to grant franchises to the United Railroads, the Home Telephone company, the San Francisco Gas & Electric company and the so-called "prize fight trust." Ten are against T. V. Halsey, former general agent of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company, who is charged with having bribed the supervisors not to grant a franchise to a rival company. One indictment against Ruef and four more against Halsey, which it is understood were also returned, were not filed in open court. Several more indictments were returned by the grand jury, but not filed. Honey and Burns not even trusting the secret file.

On the 65 counts of bribery against Ruef, 17 are in connection with the granting of the overhead trolley franchise to the United Railroad company, immediately after the disaster of last April; 17 are based upon the money alleged to have been spent by the Gas company to secure an 85-cent gas rate as against 75-cent rate; 13 refer to the passing of money by the Home Telephone company to obtain a franchise for a bid of $25,000, and which it has been declared was worth at least $1,000,000, and 18 are based upon the alleged bribing of the supervisors by Ruef to grant fight permits only to the so-called fight trust of this city, which is composed of Eddie Graney, Morris Levy, James Coffroth and Willis Britt.

Say Ruef Handled the Money.

The money in all these cases is alleged to have been handled by Ruef, who, according to Honey and Burns, was the agent and broker between the public service corporations and the board of supervisors and a sort of general distributing agent for all who desired privileges from the supervisors.

Judge Coffey fixed the bail at $10,000 on each indictment, or a total of $650,000 for Ruef and $100,000 for Halsey.

How the Bribes were Distributed.

In the overhead trolley deal Ruef, according to Burns, was given $455,000 by the United Railroads, of which the political boss is alleged to have divided $91,000. Of this amount $4,000 is said to have been given to each of 14 supervisors; two received $10,000 each and one $15,000. In the restricting of boxing permits to the fight trust, the indictments charge that $500 was given to each of 18 supervisors, although a fund of $20,000 was said to have been collected for Ruef. In the alleged deal by which the gas company was given an 85-cent rate, $12,000, it is charged, was divided among 16 of the supervisors.

Ruef is charged with having divided among 13 of the city fathers the sum of $62,000 received from the Home Telephone company. Fourteen of the supervisors are alleged to have also taken money from Halsey to prevent the granting of the franchise to the Home company.

Government Homesteads IN SOUTH DAKOTA

The day when you can take up free land under the United States homestead laws, that is fit for agricultural purposes, is fast passing. But there yet remains considerable such land in South Dakota which is being rapidly taken up, as the new lines of the now under construction open them to development.

Improved farm lands can be bought, too, and at low prices that make them one of the best investments on earth; and special low homeseekers' rates are being made twice a month to enable prospective home-builders to look over the situation.

All land values in South Dakota are rising rapidly.

Much Used Wedding Present.

A Providence girl, who has been married about six months, had wedding cards a short time ago from an old school friend who had given her a wedding present, which, of course, demanded one in return. Among her wedding presents the Providence girl had duplicates in the shape of two silver card-trays, and in a spirit of economy she decided to give one of these to her friend. It was marked with her own initials, but it would be only a matter of a few minutes to have them removed and the proper monogram cut.

She took it to the jeweler and explained what was to be done. He picked up the tray, looked at it closely and smiled.

"Madame," said he, "it will be impossible. I have already changed the initials on this same tray five times, and it has worn so thin that I cannot do it again without cutting through the bottom."

After four days of balloting there, seven Dominick-Croft men voted for me—my first appearance as a candidate. On the seventy-seventh ballot Schoolcraft withdrew, and all the Dominick-Croft men voted for me. On the seventy-ninth ballot I got, in addition, two opposition votes Woodruff had bought for me at $300 apiece. The ballot was: Dunkirk, 41; Grassmere (who was receiving the opposition's complimentary vote), 36; Saylor, 43. I was a senator of the United States.

There was a wild scene. Threats, insults, blows even, were exchanged. And down at the Capital City hotel Dunkirk crawled upon a table and denounced me as an infamous scoundrel, a traitor, a serpent he had warned in his bosom. But the people of the state accepted it as natural and satisfactory.

"Nobody That Knows Me Ever Sees Me When—at That Time."

that "the vigorous and fearless young chairman of the party's state committee" should be "agreed on as a compromise." An hour after that last ballot, he hadn't a friend left, except some galling sympathizers from whom he hid himself. Those who had been his warmest supporters were "paying court to the new custodian of the plum tree."

The governor was mine, and the legislature. Mine was the federal patronage, also—all of it, if I chose, for Croft was my dependent, though he did not realize it; mine also were the definitely vast resources of the members of my combine. Without my consent no man could get office anywhere in my state, from governorship and judgeship down as far as I cared to reach. Subject only to the check of public sentiment—so easily defeated if it be not defied—I was master of the making and execution of laws. Why? Not because I was leader of the dominant party. Not because I was a senator of the United States. Solely because I controlled the sources of the money that maintained the political machinery of both parties. The hand that holds the purse strings is the hand that rules—if it knows how to rule; for rule is power plus ability.

I was not master because I had the plum tree. I had the plum tree because I was master.

The legislature attended to such of the demands of my combine and such of the demands of the public as I thought it expedient to grant, and then adjourned. Woodruff asked a three months' leave. I did not hear from him until midsummer, when he sent me a cablegram from London. He was in a hospital there, out of money and out of health. I cabled him $1,000 and asked him to come home as soon as he could. It was my first personal experience with that far from uncommon American type, the periodic drunkard. I had to cable him money three times before he started.

When he came to me at Washington, in December, he looked just as before—calm, robust, cool, cynical and dressed in the very extreme of the extreme fashion. I received him as if nothing had happened. It was not until the current of mutual liking was again flowing freely between us that I said: "Doc, may I impose on your friendship to the extent of an intrusion into your private affairs?"

He started, and gave me a quick look, his color mounting. "Yes," he said after a moment.

"When I heard from you," I went on, "I made some inquiries. I owe you no apology. You had given me a shock—one of the severest of my life. But they told me that you never let—that—that that peculiarity of yours interfere with business."

His head was hanging. "I always go away," he said. "Nobody that knows me ever sees me when—at that time."

I laid my hand on his arm. "Doc, why do you do—that sort of thing?"

The scar came up into his face to put agony into the reckless despair that looked from his eyes. For an instant I stood on the threshold of his chamber of remorse and vain regret—and well I knew where I was. "Why? not?" he asked, bitterly. "There's always a sort of horror—inside me. And it grows until I can't bear it. And then—I drown it—why shouldn't I?"

"That's very stupid for a man of your brains," said I. "There's nothing—nothing in the world, except death—that cannot be wiped out or set right. Play the game, Doc. Play it

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them medicines of known composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny. Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak, nervous, or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients contained in it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, covering and containing extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the most glowing terms each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to anyone sending address on postal card or request the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral salts or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, or biliousness, and all catarrhal diseases, were employed long years ago by the Indians for similar ailments. These facts, taken from the writings of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, were "blatantly" set out in the "Square Deal." Our knowledge of the uses of a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prostrations, antenatal and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

The lawyer who was just then counsel to his opponent in a case involving millions, a case which Roebuck afterward won!

Who presented these checks? I could more easily say who did not.

From the very beginning of my control I kept my promise to reduce the cost of the political business to my clients. When I got the machine thoroughly in hand, I saw I could make it cost them less than a third of what they had been paying on the average, for ten years. I cut off, almost at a stroke, a horde of lobbyists, lawyers, threateners without influence, and hangers-on of various kinds. I reduced the payments for legislation to a system. Instead of the shameful, scandal-creating and wasteful auctioneering that had been going on for years.

In fact, so cheaply did I run the machine that I saw it would be most imprudent to let my clients have the full benefit. Cheapness would have made them uncontrollably greedy and exacting, and would have given them a wholly false idea of my value as soon as it had slipped their short memories how dearly they used to pay.

So I continued to make heavy assessments, and put the surplus in a reserve fund for emergencies. I thought, for example, that I might, some day have trouble with one or more members of my combine; my reserve would supply me with the munitions for forcing insurgents to return on their agreements.

This fund was in no sense part of my private fortune. Nowhere else, I think, do the eccentricities of conscience show themselves more interestingly than in the various attitudes of the various political leaders toward the large sums which the exigencies of commercialized politics place absolutely and securely under their control. I have no criticism for any of these attitudes.

I have lived long enough and practically enough to learn not to criticize the morals of men any more than I criticize their facial contour or their physical build. "As many men, so many minds"—and morals. Wrong, for practical purposes, is that which a man can cajole or compel his conscience to approve.

It so happened that I had a sense that to use my assessments for my private financial profits would be wrong. Therefore, my private fortune has been wholly the result of the opportunities which came through my intimacy with Roebuck and such others of the members of my combine as were personally agreeable—or, perhaps it would be more accurate to say, not disagreeable, for, in the circumstances, I naturally saw a side of those men which a friend must never see in a friend. I could not help having toward most of these distinguished clients of mine much the feeling his lawyer has for the guilty criminal he is defending.

BRIDGE BUILDERS INDICTED.

Accused at Freeport of Forming Trust and of Bribery.

Freeport, Ill., March 21.—An alleged pooling arrangement whereby a dozen bridge companies combined, it is said, and allotted certain territory to each other, resulted Wednesday in the returning of several indictments by a grand jury.

William H. Shons, a wealthy bridge builder of Freeport, was indicted on several counts on a charge of being in a conspiracy to prevent competition. There is also a bribery indictment against Shons and his brother, Homer, who is connected with the same establishment. Several bridge companies, including a big concern at Clinton, Ia., and a man who lives at Madison, Wis., and two road commissioners who are on the board that let a $12,000 contract to W. H. Shons, also were indicted.

If from an artery or from a vein the best method is to put pressure on each side of the wound (that nearest the heart and that most remote from it), so as to prevent further access of blood to the part. ## SPRING OPENING

A Fashion Panorama. A Reviewal of the New---a Formal Showing of the Fabrics and Garments of Spring.

FASHIONS come and Fashions go. One has to be spry to keep up to the moment. The best and easiest way to do so, is to watch this store and its continuously changing stocks and styles.

When Fashions come, they come to this store first and when they go, they go from here long before they become passe. The period which most definitely marks the "going and coming" time, is at the event of our "Spring Opening"—which occurs

SATURDAY, MARCH 23d

Our Spring Garments, Fabrics and Requisites go hand in hand with the style moment—if not a month or two ahead. We've been "spry" and we have been careful and skillful and successful in gathering the best that the most eminent factories and tailor shops of this and foreign countries produce.

It's to the initiatory exhibit of these things, we cordially invite you and your friends. We know you will enjoy the visit—we know you will gain many valuable style ideas—we know you will obtain many useful economy hints. And, if you don't come, we know you will regret it.

You might read style magazines and style articles for a month of Sundays and not gain one-tenth the amount of style knowledge, a visit here will give you. Why?—because style is something impossible to describe and better understood than expressed. Like Niagara—you don't appreciate it until you see it.

So much will do—on paper, concerning our Spring Opening. We hope to see you here Saturday, at the unfolding of our Spring modes. If you come, you'll learn more than pen can tell in volumes
